

IMPROVEMENTS

- The publication contains comprehensive information on the crime situation in the country and therefore, it becomes quite bulky. An attempt has been made to address this problem by bringing out the publication in two parts. The first part contains maps, graphs and chapter-wise analysis while the second part contains all the tables which may be referred to when details are needed.
- IPC sections corresponding to the crime-heads have been added in the tables for easy reference.
- A separate chapter (Chapter -6*) has been added in view of the increasing demand for information on Human Trafficking.
- Thematic maps have been added for certain chapters, so that users may have better understanding of State/UT-wise variations in incidence of various categories of crimes.
